

Cast composition gap: female-led films have more gender-balanced casts

The cast composition difference is an authorial choice — it is what the raw H1 gap was measuring. Cast adjustment removes this confound; this figure shows what it was.